

BENEFACT GROUP

As CEO of the Benefact Group, I wanted to thank you for considering Ansvar and to highlight the difference we could make by working together.

You may know that Ansvar is part of the Benefact Group, which is not only owned by a charity but gives back all of its available profits to charity too.

In the last decade, we have been able to give a staggering £200 million across more than 10,000 not-for-profit organisations.

We really understand the sector and the support it needs to thrive, and if you choose to insure with Ansvar, the cover and service you'll receive will create a win:win scenario where we can provide a fantastic claims experience should you need us; with the knowledge that by purchasing the product, you are also supporting good causes.

We would be delighted and proud to be trusted with your business, particularly in the knowledge that by working together, we would be contributing to changing the lives of so many.

Thank you again.

Yours,

Mark Hews
Group Chief Executive Officer

Working with us

helps protect what matters most to you

and because we give all our available profits to charity

it makes someone else's life a little brighter too.
